Suggested caloric meal intakes are for those looking to lose weight at a healthy rate of 1 to 2 pounds per week. An important part of weight management is moderate exercise such as 30-60 minutes 3-5 times per week. To maintain long-term weight loss goals, adopt a lifelong commitment that includes increasing regular physical activity of at least moderate intensity and healthy eating. A healthy eating plan should be low in calories, low in fats, and high in vegetables, fruits, and whole grains. Moreover, even weight loss of as little as 10 percent of body weight, if maintained over time, has been shown to be beneficial.
